

Please do not allow the Indiana no call list to be weakened. There is no need for the banks to be allowed to contact anyone except their customers and those who request information from them. If people are interested in any services that their banks offer they can jolly well call the banks, instead of the banks calling them. Since the no call list has been in place my unwanted calss have fallen by almost 90 percent. If I want services from any company I can call them. They don't need to call me. thanks John Huitt
